A TIME FOR SOBER THINKING .- The announcement that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will temporarily suspend work upon improvements involving an outlay of five million dollars foling an outlay of five million dollars fol-lows upon a general policy of retrench-ment necessarily enforced upon the great transportation companies by decreasing business and the prospect of further cur-tailment. The arrest of building opera-tions, in large part due to labor troubles, has in turn led to an accumulation of structural material and the stagnation or stoppage of all related industries. The Chicago Record-Herald publishes some startling figures showing the falling off in building operations for nine months of building operations for nine months of the current year in comparison with the corresponding period for 1902 in the for

Such a severe check given to one form of industry would of itself disastrously complicate business affairs. But misfor tune has followed misfortune. The coun try is staggering under a succession industrial and speculative disasters which have only been alleviated by the spiendid and saving outturn of the farms. WOMAN STRANGLED RIVAL - A man named Ladermann shot himself vesterday at Lyons, France, as he was being arrested by the police in connection with the murder at Aix-les Baines last month of a well-known character named Eugene Fourgere. His condition is critical. Laderman's brother tells the following story of the crime, which he says was arranged between a woman named Giriai, known in certain circles as "La Nubienne," and Henri Bassot, her lover. Ladermann agreed to assist in the theft of the Fougere to assist in the their of the Fougers jewels upon condition that there be no killing. He secreted himself in the murdered woman's villa. When Fou-gere's maid came into the house she was bound and gagged by Giriat, who then bound and gagged by Giriat, who then treated Fougere in the same manner. After handing Ladermann the jewels Giriat strangled Fougere, whom she hated. Then, in order to dispose of the witness to the crime, she strangled the maid. Giriat then asked Ladermann to bind and gag her; this he did before leaving the villa with the jewels.
